Md. on September 10 and 11.

Organizations supported by the fund during the past year include Farming4Hunger, a southern Maryland nonprofit that provides 26 percent of the fresh food that goes to the Maryland Food Bank, Jude House, an organization that provides housing and treatment for men and women in recovery, and Lifestyles of Maryland, a southern Maryland nonprofit that serves approximately 14,000 individuals by providing emergency assistance, transportation, housing, and job training.

Since 2006, The Wills Group has donated more than $1.9 million to communities across Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and Washington, D.C.

Kindness is a piece of cake

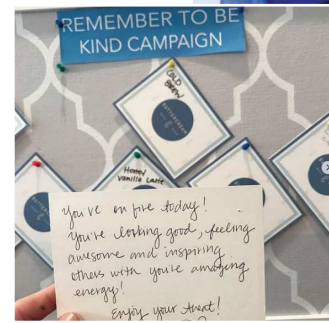

To share a little of their “sweetness” with the rest of the world, D.C. favorite Buttercream Bakeshop launched the #RememberToBeKind campaign during the month of September. With recent natural disasters and some of the news stories of the day, acclaimed chef/owner Tiffany MacIsaac and lead decorator/partner Alex Mudry-Till decided to promote love and kindness with a kindness campaign. Throughout September, customers could buy any of Buttercream Bakeshop’s treats from the bakery and gift it to another customer, with a handwritten note of kindness. The extra 15 percent off the pay-it-forward pastries was just icing on the cake!

MacIsaac remarked, “The campaign was infectious, and it was wonderful to see so many guests participate. It truly has boosted morale and elevated many people’s days!” MacIsaac and Mudry-Till have a saying: “We strive to make people happy, one fresh baked chocolate chip cookie at a time.” Kindness and chocolate chip cookies...hmmmm...works for me!
